Intensive English for Academic Purposes Pre-Sessional Course

Module One: 28th June – 30th July 2010
Module Two: 2nd August – 3rd September 2010

Who is it for?

- Students who need or want to improve their English and their study skills before starting a degree course at Abertay.
- Students who would like to become familiar with the University, some aspects of UK academic culture and the city of Dundee, before starting their course.
- Students who would like a summer course in English for Academic Purposes, without intending to continue at Abertay.

What does it offer?

During 20 hours each week the course helps to prepare you for academic study in Britain with classes on the following topics:

- Writing for academic essays, exams and dissertations
- Reading skills to help with academic books, journal articles and internet sources
- Listening during lectures and discussions
- Speaking, including giving presentations and taking part in seminars

Additionally we look at:

- Developing critical thinking and independent learning
- Academic vocabulary
- Note taking and research skills

General English Language Improvement:

- Communicating easily, naturally and accurately with other students and native speakers, in and out of class
- Grammar, vocabulary and pronunciation development

These core topics will be given as integrated lessons and skills will be developed with authentic tasks designed to replicate real coursework. Students will research and write an essay, and take part in academic discussions and deliver a presentation. There will also be authentic weekly academic lectures from lecturing staff on business, computing and other topics relevant to students on the course.

Social and Cultural Events

Dundee is a friendly and lively city with a rich history and huge variety of countryside and seaside nearby: castles, beaches, mountains and lochs are all within easy reach. We organise free weekly trips, which in the past have included such places as Scone Palace, the historic city of St. Andrews, the Scottish Deer Centre, a whisky distillery and other local places of interest.

Airport Transfer

The University can arrange transfer from Edinburgh Airport upon request. There will be a fee for this which will depend on the number of passengers and time of day.
